Ripple Filter The ripple filter creates interesting lines or curves that start at a starting point and then follow a path. The lines can grow and shrink to create a wave-like effect, as shown in Figure 15-5. FIGURE 15-5: The ripple filter creates waves along a path. To use the ripple filter, follow these steps: 1. Open an image in Photoshop and place the selection handles around the wave you want to ripple. In the example in Figure 15-5, I placed the rectangle handles at the wave's starting and ending points. 2. Click the Ripple button (it's shown in the margin) on the Filter panel or press Cmd+R. As soon as you click the Ripple button or press Cmd+R, the filter appears in a preview on your image window. 3. Drag the middle pointer to control the size of the wave. You can drag in any direction. You can drag up or down to decrease the ripple, or drag left or right to increase it. 4. Click outside of the wave so that the filter isn't applied any longer. You can click a new place on the image or in the layer stack (see the later section, "Layer Layers: A Basic Understanding of Photoshop's Editing System," for details about layer stacks) to change the ripple effect's look.

Terrorism 05 March, 2019 The International Centre for Counter-Terrorism - The Hague (ICCT) is a Dutch anti-terrorism agency established by the Dutch government in April 2002. It is an independent, operational part of the Ministry of Security and Justice, which helps to fight both organised and lone-wolf terrorist attacks. The ICCT operates as a non-military police service and is part of the Dutch justice system. It primarily deals with terrorism investigations. Its resources are used to identify and assess risks, protect Dutch citizens, and respond to terrorist threats. The Ministry of Justice and Security has a limited role in law enforcement, and is responsible for giving political leadership to the agency and to coordinate inter-agency and international assistance. On January 1st of 2019 the European Union added the ICCT to the European Union counter-terrorism mandate under the European Union's Security Strategy for Counter-Terrorism. This mandate provides for the implementation of this strategy, including increasing security cooperation, effective border control, increased interdiction, and the enhancement of counter-terrorism education and training. On February 1st, 2019, it was announced that the ICCT would be moving to a new office building, the HSC/CCC building, now located at Herengracht 130 in Amsterdam. The new building will increase the agency's space, so that it is no longer necessary to share office space with the Dutch National Police, the Public Prosecutor, the Ministry of Justice and Security, and the Ministry of the Interior. The move has been implemented gradually, and the majority of ICCT staff is expected to move into the new building by the end of 2019. The Dutch government estimates that the costs of the move, including land rents and the purchase of furniture, are approximately €9.3 million. The United States Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and the United States Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) work together, and maintain close relationships with the ICCT, and support its efforts through the DHS' International Operations Center.Q: How to create and use Semantic Media Wiki I would like to create a Wiki using Semantic Media

Wiki but I don't know how. I think that it is a great concept of wiki that there are tags that allows us to distinguish different types of things. But because the number of tags is large I can't remember them all so I have some doubts. For example, I would like to know how to implement a tag that
